Walter R. Worthington, for several years brakeman on the Maysville accommodation, quit this run Monday to take a local freight running between Maysville and Russell. "Wat," as he was familiarly known to the patrons of this train, together with Conductor Con King, has been regarded as a necessary part of this train, and he has a host of friends between Maysville and the Queen City who will regret his leaving. Here's hoping that "Wat" will always be able to keep his feet on top of the elusive freight car.

OF TOBACCO SOLD ON THE MAYS-VILLE MARKET DURING SEA-
 SON OF 1916-17 AT AN AV-ERAGE OF $17.22 PER HUNDRED.

Best Year Ever Known in the History of Sales in This City—$4,136,491.50
 Distributed to Growers in This Section of the Country—Maysville Retains Second Place

The Maysville Tobacco Market closed yesterday after one of the most successful seasons since the beginning of the looseleaf market in 1909. The records show a total of 24,017,315 pounds of tobacco sold, for which was paid the enormous sum of $4,136,491.50, an average of $17.22 per hundred pounds.

Since the beginning of the looseleaf market in Maysville there has been sold a total of 145,218,394 pounds of tobacco at an average of $11.24 for the total amount. Of the eight years, the market for 1916-17 is the best, the average of the season being about 60 per cent higher than that of last year and over double that of the year before.

The Season's Market

The market this year was undoubtedly the best all around ever known. Not since the Civil War have such prices been given for low and medium grades of tobacco as there were this year. The low price of the year, if we remember correctly, was given soon after the withdrawal of the American Tobacco Co. from the market, about the first of February, at which time a basket selling at $5.75 per hundred pounds was reported to this office.

The season opened very auspiciously. Speculators had been offering good prices for the tobacco, while yet uncut and all were on tip-toes, so to speak, to see if they were to be fooled in the least in their buying.

But the market was even better than expected. The average of the sales of the first day was $16.82, almost two dollars higher than predicted. The first part of the season on account of the dry weather the sales were very light, but after the Christmas holidays the market soon began to pick up and before long a daily average of $19 per hundred pounds had been reached.

Withdrawal of the American
 Then came the withdrawal of the American Tobacco Company from the market. Speculators immediately became panic stricken, thinking that the market would decrease until prices, half of the former ones were given. The other buyers came to the rescue however and, although, the market dropped, it was a steady decline. The American resumed buying within a few days, but the market did not regain its former place.

For the past month the sales have been slow, now and then enlivened with some good crops bringing averages of $20 or above.

The Total Sales

Speculation has been rife during the season as to the total number of pounds that would be sold. At the beginning of the season the extremes were fifteen and thirty million, and many wagers were made on the results. We understand that one man placed the sales as high as 35 million before the season started.

The sales, although not as great as in the season of 1914-15, are not far behind the record of that year. The sales this year were all straight, very little tobacco being resold, as in the case during that season.

Sales of Former Years
Season	Pounds	Average
1909-10	3,787,439	$13.29
1910-11	15,793,655	7.69

1914-15	25,531,670	8.21

1916-17	24,017,315	17.22

The Final Sales

The final sales of the season were light, only 63,610 pounds being sold at the houses, all giving reports. A high price of $35 was reported from the Farmers and Planters House, this being the highest price of several weeks.

RUSHING INTO DICTATORSHIP

Tacitus etched one period of Roman history by describing it as a time when the people rushed into slavery (ruere in servitium). If one could believe some newspapers and some Governors and some members of Legislatures and of Congress, the American people is just now disposed to rush into dictatorships. It is a method suggested for every question that comes up. There seems to be a perfect passion for commandeering. Let the State seize all the food. If anybody is building a ship for a foreign customer, let the Government take it over. Railroads have had troubles with cars and fuel and cold weather. Why doesn't the President seize all the lines and run them properly? The motto is, do it first and think about it afterwards. Seize everything at once, and pay for it later—also, we may add, make a worse mess of it later.

But, men and brethren, there is neither sense nor safety in such short cuts. We cannot scrap overnight all our established ways of inquiring into the facts before leaping to conclusions. Wellington said that he had spent almost all his life in trying to figure out what lay beyond the hill in front of him. We can't dispense with that habit of mind. If we give instant heed to every hysterical gentleman who comes along with exaggerated fears and with improvised measures to lay them; if we run after the sensational press which flings out its masses of unverified statistics and shrieks for inferences which do not follow, we will speedily find ourselves rushing down a steep place into the sea.—N. Y. Post.

Enthusiasm is the dynamics of your personality. Without it, whatever abilities you may possess lie dormant; and it is safe to say that nearly every man has more latent power than he ever learns to use. You may have knowledge, sound judgment, good reasoning faculties; but no one—not even yourself—will know it until you discover how to put your heart into thought and action.

A wonderful thing is this quality which we call enthusiasm. It is too often underrated as so much surplus and useless display of feeling, lacking in real substantiality. This is an enormous mistake. You can't go wrong in applying all the genuine enthusiasm that you can stir up within you, for it is the power that moves the world. There is nothing comparable to it in the things which it can accomplish.

We can cut through the hardest rocks with a diamond drill and melt steel rails with a flame. We can tunnel through mountains and make our way through any sort of physical obstruction. We can checkmate and divert the very laws of Nature by our science.

But there is no power in the world that can cut through another man's mental opposition, except persuasion. And persuasion is reason plus enthusiasm, with the emphasis on enthusiasm.

Enthusiasm is the art of high persuasion.

And did you ever stop to think that your progress is commensurate with your ability to move the minds of other people? If you are a salesman, this is pre-eminently so. Even if you are a clerk, it is the zest which you put into your work that enkindles an appreciation in the mind of your employer.

You have a good idea—don't think that other people will recognize it at once. Columbus had a good idea, but he didn't get "across" with it without much of this high persuasion.

If you would like to be a power among men, cultivate enthusiasm. People will like you better for it; you will escape the dull routine of a mechanical existence, and you will make headway wherever you are. It cannot be otherwise, for this is the law of human life. Put your soul into your work, and not only will you find it pleasanter every hour of the day, but people will believe in you just as they believe in electricity when they get into touch with a dynamo.

And remember this—there is no secret about this "gift" of enthusiasm. It is the sure reward of deep, honest thought and hard persistent labor.—J. Ogden Armour in Armour Magazine.

AMERICAN GENEROSITY TO COMMEMORATE SERBIAN VALOR

The valiant fighting of Serbia in the present war is to be commemorated by a bronze tablet, the gift of American generosity, according to an announcement made at the national capital by Madame Slavko Grouitch, formerly a West Virginia girl, now the wife of the Serbian secretary of foreign affairs.

"This tablet will mark the road of the retreat of the Serbians before the Austrian invasion," said Madame Grouitch, "when thousands of men, women and children died from hunger and exhaustion; but what is equally notable is that it will stand as a constant reminder to the appreciative Serbians of the generous charity of America in this dark hour of the Balkan republic."

Madame Grouitch has been in America raising money for her Serbian Hospitals fund, with headquarters at 1 Madison Avenue, New York City. As a part of this work she has had bronze replicas of the tablet made which are being taken as historic mementos by Americans who are contributing to the Serbian Hospitals fund.

The tablet is the work of the well known American sculptress, Mrs. Anna Coleman Ladd, of Boston. It represents the legendary spirit, which the Serbians call the Veela, supposed to have led and sustained the brave women and children in their hard march before the invading Austrians. The motto of the Veela is "Serbia Surrenders Only to God."

OVERWORKED MINISTER

ells How Vinol Restored Strength and Vitality.

Maysville people will realize that we could not publish such letters as the following if they were not genuine and truthful statements of facts. Rev. Mr. Hughes, Holly Springs, Ark., says:

"I am a Methodist Minister, and suffered from broken-down nerves, loss of appetite and sleeplessness. I was weak, my circulation was very poor, and I was not able to do my duty in my Parish as I felt I should. Had tried various remedies but did not seem to get any better. Through the gift of Vinol, and I built me up. I gained my appetite, can sleep better and do more work."

There is no secret about Vinol, it derives its powers to build up the overworked, broken-down, nervous system from beef and cod liver peptides, iron and manganese peptonates, and glycerophosphates, etc., which it contains.

Anyone in Maysville who wishes to see Vinol can do so with the understanding that we will return their money if they are not satisfied. J. C. Pecor Drug Co., Maysville, Ky. Also at leading drug store in all Kentucky towns.

I have been greatly benefitted by them myself. At times, my back has ached and I have suffered from lameness through the small of my back. When I have been in that way, I have used a box or so of Doan's Kidney Pills, which I get at Chancery Drug Store. They have always quickly removed the trouble."

QUAINT CHARACTER LIVED IN BIG WINDOWLESS ROOM

Paducah, Ky., March 26—Finus Rogers, who died Saturday at his home in Trigg county, was a quaint character. He would not permit a stove in his home, always cooking on the open fireplace. For years he lived in a room, twenty eight feet square and without a window. When 92 years old he rode a mile to Hopkinsville, a distance of eighteen miles, to pay taxes, making the trip in half a day. A large sum of money was saved by him, and it was kept in a large iron safe near his bed. The deceased is survived by ten children.

BOARD PLANS TO SUSPEND RAISES

Washington, March 28—Suspension pending investigation of all increases in freight rates proposed by the railroads of the country in their forthcoming applications for a general advance appeared tonight to be the course which the Interstate Commerce Commission probably will follow when the various railroad groups file their proposals. Such suspensions, it was indicated, would not be for the customary period of six months, but probably would be for a period not to exceed sixty days, during which the commission will undertake comprehensive inquiry into the reasonableness of the railroads' demands. Hearings will be held, it is understood, during the period of suspension, the shippers, commercial and civic organizations, state utilities commissions and other interstate parties will be heard.

The commission is understood to have been prepared for an application to advance rates sufficiently to reimburse the roads for additional wages paid under the Adamson law, but almost totally unprepared for petitions asking for a sweeping advance in all rates based on other grounds as well.

JURY IS SELECTED FOR SECOND DEWEY TRIAL

Paris, Ky., March 28—With the selection of a jury and formal argument of the case by the lawyers, the second trial of Lee Deavers, charged with the killing of Sidney G. Clay, was begun in Circuit Court here today.

The case has been one of the most famous ever tried in Bourbon county, because of the prominence of the parties concerned. At a former trial the jury voted eight for acquittal and four for conviction.

Commonwealth's Attorney Victor Bradley, assisted by County Attorney George Batterson and Colonel John R. Allen, of Lexington, is conducting the prosecution. Colonel Robert B. Franklin, of Lexington and Frankfort, and Talbot & Whitney, of Paris, are counsel for defense.

It is expected that the testimony will be taken and the arguments of the lawyers heard Thursday and Friday and that the case will be in the hands of the jury Saturday.

WAR SACRIFICES EARN VOTE FOR ENGLISH WOMEN

London, March 28—After an interesting debate today the House of Commons by a majority of 279 expressed approval of legislation on the lines of the speakers' conference recommendations for franchise reform. The small minority against such a measure represented not the actual opponents who were desirous of postponing legislation of such a contentious character until after the war.

The great feature of the debate was the frank acceptance by ex-Premier Asquith and Andrew Bonar Law, chancellor of the exchequer, of women's right to vote as a result of their war sacrifices and services, and Premier Lloyd George's wholehearted acceptance of the conference recommendations, except proportional representation. He was even willing to go still further and make the qualifying period three instead of six months.

As a result of the debate, the government, as Mr. Bonar Law announced, will proceed with legislation to give effect to the recommendations of the conference. The bill will embody all of the recommendations, except proportional representation and women's suffrage. These will be omitted, first, because the question, and second, because it is held that parliament must first of all express acceptance of the principles of women's suffrage.

RUSS WORKERS PREVENT "STRIKE" BY FOREMAN

Petrograd, March 28, (Via London).—The factory workers have reversed the usual order and prevented a strike threatened by the "bosses" who have been deposed or have had their authority curtailed, as the result of the new liberty and equality. In a certain munitions factory the disgruntled administration, seeing their old berths slipping from their grasp, decided to declare the factory on strike, but the workmen, inspired by the appeals of the new government for their support, refused to walk out. On the contrary they insisted that the foremen directing the engineers should begin work with them at day-break and put in an equal number of hours.

"Every hour is precious," declares the spokesman of the workers. We must work to support our comrades at the front. Every man who goes on strike will be treated as a traitor, and we will not guarantee his safety."

PEACE ADVOCATES PLAN TO HAVE PARADE IN CAPITAL

Washington, March 28—Officers of the Emergency Peace Federation came to Washington from New York today to arrange for a public demonstration here at the convening of Congress Monday in protest against war with Germany. They propose to have peace advocates from various cities march over Pennsylvania avenue to the Capitol and there seek interviews with representatives and senators to urge the creation of a German-American joint commission to discuss the international differences and a conference of neutral nations to consider means of ending the war.

BERLIN WARNS ROMANIA TO RELEASE INTERNAL GERMAN

London, March 28—An official dispatch received from Jassy, Roumania, says the Swiss minister there has notified the Roumanian government on behalf of the German Foreign Office that unless Roumania releases by April 14, all interned Germans including those of military age, Germany will seize more hostages in the occupied districts of Roumania and will deport those new hostages to Bulgaria and Turkey.

The dispatch adds that no reply on the demand has yet been made, but that it is not likely that Roumania will accede.

BEAUTIFUL WEDDING

Was That of Mr. Eugene Asbury Boyd to Miss Mae Wallingford at the Hebron Church Yesterday.

An event of great interest on Thursday was the marriage of Mr. Eugene Asbury Boyd and Miss Mae Wallingford at the Hebron M. E. Church in the county. The historic old church, classic in its simplicity, had been rendered a bower of beauty by the loving hands of the bride's young friends, the decorations being in green and white. At the back of the rostrum were banked evergreens and potted plants that formed a fitting background for the bridal party, while the railing was entwined with smilax and white tulle. Over all, cathedral candles shed a soft, enchanting light as of the twilight glow.

At the appointed hour, 1 o'clock, the hush of expectancy fell upon the audience as the first notes of the organ, presided over by Miss Lillian Wallingford, becomingly attired in green chiffon-cloth, whispered the message of Mendelssohn's Wedding March. Then entered the bridal party, composed of the beauty and gallantry of this section of the county. The ushers came first, Mr. Green Wallingford and Mr. Harold Brooks coming down one aisle as Mr. Ward Wallingford and Mr. O. N. Weaver entered by the other. Next came the bridesmaids—first, Miss Mary Thornton; then, Miss Nellie Worthington, both of Minerva. Then followed the best man, Mr. Russell Haughey, and the Matron of Honor, Mrs. J. S. Weaver, of Huntington, W. Va., they entering by opposite aisles.

Following them, the groom came down the left aisle as his fair young bride, never lovelier, entered by the white carpeted aisle on the right. At the altar, they met before the officiating minister, the Rev. E. W. Ishmael, who joined these two young lives by the impressive marriage ceremony of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Thus culminated a happy love-affair which began when the chief participants were schoolmates in the Minerva High School, where they graduated in the same class.

Miss King, a close friend of the bride, was lovely in pink Georgette crepe over pink taffeta, with gold lace trimmings. She carried pink roses.

The other maid, Miss Worthington, cousin to the groom, wore yellow Georgette crepe over yellow silk, with trimmings of gold lace. She carried yellow roses, so becoming to her brunette beauty.

The Matron of Honor, Mrs. J. S. Weaver, the bride's cousin and a decided blond, wore a charming gown of blue chiffon taffeta and silver lace, with veil of silk net held in place by valley lilies. Bearing a large sheaf of pink roses, she made a lovely picture indeed.

The bride, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wallingford, was handsomely gowned in white satin with lace bodice, caught here and there with pearl ornaments. Her filney veil, clasped to her dark hair with a wreath of orange blossoms, gave added charm to her stately beauty. She carried a large bouquet of fragrant Bride Roses, beautiful in their waxy perfection. Ever lovely, she was never fairer than when crowned by her bridal veil. She has always been a favorite in her wide circle of friends, winning all by her cheerful disposition.

Mr. Boyd is a young man of many sterling qualities and well liked by all who know him. He is a progressive land owner of Mason and Bracken counties, having won several prizes at various corn fairs. He is the only son of Mr. E. F. Boyd, Jr., our popular and efficient County Agent.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd were the recipients of many gifts of cut glass, silver, china, and dainty linen, which attest the esteem in which they are held. Immediately after the ceremony, the bridal party repaired to the bride's home where she dined a beautiful suit, leaving for an extensive bridal trip from which they will return to be at home to their many friends in the house now being remodeled.
